Note

When orders were solicited as to whether cases for the remission of sentences passed on political Convicts Should be treated as a Council matter or not, the Dewan ~~has minuted the following~~ was pleased to minute as follows:—

"All proposals for the release of prisoners are Scheduled Cases. But it is usual to obtain H. H's approval to the principles that should be followed in particular classes of Cases. Thereafter orders are issued (without further circulation) in accordance with these principles. This would be the most Convenient procedure to adopt in regard to prisoners undergoing Sentences for offences of a political character.

If the offence is not of a Serious Character and an undertaking is given by the prisoner or his near Relatives that he will not take part in any Subversive or unlawful activities he may be released as a rule on the recommendation of the D. M. Concerned.

In all other Cases, orders Should be obtained individually.

If this procedure is agreed to

by the Ministers, a final note ~~may~~ please be put on these lines".
